Reshaping our Economies - Building a better future for people and planet

Course Goals and Outline

Reshaping Our Economies is a self-paced e-learning course that explores how countries and institutions can drive the shift to an inclusive green economy, one that advances sustainability, equity, and well-being. The overall goal of the course is to show how changes in upstream policy-making have the potential to shift the whole of the economy towards a green and inclusive transformation. After completing the e-course, participants should be able to:

- Explain why upstream economic policies are key levers for achieving sustainable development
- Identify enabling conditions and specific entry points for advancing green, circular and jobs-rich economies
- Discuss the social impacts of a green economic transformation and approaches for mitigating negative effects on vulnerable groups
- Outline tools and policies that can help unlock and redirect public and private finance
- Give examples from different countries of how the transition looks in practice

The modules of the e-course are:

1. Towards an inclusive green economy
2. Making it just
3. Finding the finance

The estimated learning time is 4,5 hours for completion.

Completion Requirements

The certificate of completion is awarded to participants who successfully complete the e-course by achieving a minimum grade of 70% on the knowledge assessment.
